

Hello from Dr. Jeff and Lino!

This is a quieter week - after all it is Thanksgiving!

I am really excited to tell you about a program I've been working on for over a year! It will answer all your needs for holistic education so that you can take on the challenges to keep your friend healthy and living long.

So, watch for it Monday!

For now, you can join a masterclass I am speaking at. See the details below. Starts Dec 6th.

Two blogs for you. One is looking at the incredible world of an endoscopist. This is someone I worked with as in he came to my hospital and looked up noses and down the gut. See what he found.

Also, a novel way to treat parvo.

Keep your pets healthy!
